PERSONALITIES

MR. H. ST. GOAR of E. Politis & Co. is to make a trip to Hutchinson plantation during his stay in the islands.

K. C. HOPPER, manager of the Garden Island, the live publication of Kauai, returned home last night. He was here on business.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ROSE—I have already cut down one of my banana trees. I am eating its fruit. It certainly tastes good and "natural."

MRS. C. HARRIS and baby son, returned to Honolulu from the Sierra from an extended trip in San Francisco. They have been away since June.

A. F. JUDD—The mosquitoes that breed in the canefields are altogether different from the kind that the health inspectors are trying to exterminate.

MR. J. A. ADAMS, who recently arrived in Honolulu from Sequim, Washington, says that friends in Seattle begged him not to take the trip en route of the reported yellow fever epidemic. Since his arrival here Mr. Adams has written to allay the fears of the alarmists. He is accompanied by Mrs. Adams, and they are making their home at Vida Villa.

Gen. Paul Lang, United States consol at Sherbrooke, Quebec, died after a protracted illness.

MAUI TALK ON HOMESTEADS

Letter to Coelho Shows Something of What Is Being Said Among Hawaiians.

Ex-Senator Coelho of Maui received the following letter the other day, which gives an idea of what he heard said among some Hawaiians on the homestead question:

"Pauwela, Maui, Nov. 6, 1911.
To My Good Friend, W. J. Coelho, Esq., Honolulu, T. H.

"Sir: I hereby ask your kindness to assist me, whereas, a year or more since, I wrote to the land commissioner, to Mr. Campbell (Marston Campbell), to open for homesteading the Kuiaha land. The reply received was that it would be so opened.

"The peculiarity of the matter, however, is this: The land is now being occupied by haoles, and we the natives are deprived of the benefits of the land. A few months ago, in September of this year, I met Mr. W. O. Aiken, the government land agent, and asked him if it was possible for us Hawaiians to acquire homestead lands. He replied to me that the lands could not be opened to Hawaiians, because, as he said, before the exchange of this land to the government, an agreement was entered into between H. P. Baldwin and the administration that the land be not opened to the Hawaiians, but to the homestead land to be given only to the people of America (Americans). It is true the people now occupying these lands are all people from elsewhere. How are we to secure our rights? I am, yours truly,

"N. K. KALOA JR."

Senator Coelho speaking of the letter said: "There is absolutely no truth as to any agreement made by H. P. Baldwin and the government that it be homesteaded only by haoles. I have read the original exchange deed signed by H. P. Baldwin and his good wife, and there is not a single word in it which can be construed to reserve any right or preference of occupancy as homesteaders as referred to in the above letter.

Asked if any applications or petitions were made for the opening of the Kuiaha lands for homesteading, Coelho replied: "Yes, I myself, armed with pamphlets and petition blanks received from Marston Campbell, the then land commissioner, in June, 1910, made a tour of Maui distributing them among those who wanted blanks. Also explained the law and how to fill out the blanks. N. K. Kaloa Jr. and others among them that I explained to got copies. In July, 1910, over twenty-five citizens filed their petition with Marston Campbell to open the Kuiaha land for homesteading in accordance with the law. On August 2, 1910, seeing that the Kuiaha land was not included in the advertisement of lands to be opened, and at my suggestion, Nelson K. Kaloa Jr. wrote Marston Campbell concerning the petitions. Three days later, August 5, 1910, Marston Campbell replied by letter stating that the matter would receive due consideration. At that time the land was already surveyed and ready for homesteading. In fact, there was no proper excuse for the delay.

"About September, 1910, I was at Pauwela. A great deal was being reported as coming from people connected with the Haiku pineapple company to the effect that the Kuiaha land would never be opened to the kanakas. But I paid no attention to the rumors.

"In July of this year I was at Pauwela again, and was surprised to see Kuiaha settled. On inquiring at the land office I found this: In April, 1911, W. R. Patterson of the 'dam' fame and others, as a settlement association, had petitioned that certain specified lots (choice ones, too) be set aside and given them to homestead on. On May 5, 1911, in less than a month from the filing of the above petition of the said association, Commissioner Campbell issued an order of notice to the settlement association, composed of Patterson and others, to appear before the land agent (W. O. Aiken), at the time and place therein stated, and then and there select the individual lots from among the lots they had jointly petitioned to be set apart for them. This they did and got their lots. Under the law, this can only be done with the approval of the Governor.

"Now, why was the petition of N. K. Kaloa Jr. and others, filed July, 1910, ignored? Under the present land laws, the petitions of Kaloa et al. to open the whole tract would have given all intending homesteaders equal opportunity of acquiring by drawing, taking their chances as fate decrees in consecutive order, irrespective of race or class distinction. Someone is to blame.

Phoney Davis, who will have to answer to the charge of selling liquor without a license, will be tried on November 22 before Judge Monsarrat. No less than 1357 accidents in which motor vehicles were concerned have been reported to the Massachusetts highway commission in the past eleven months.
